

Guaranteed Future Insurability Application Form for Death, Total and Permanent Disablement (TPD) and Trauma cover

Information sheet

When to use this form

Use this form to increase your insurance cover with Guaranteed Future Insurability under your Firstcare – Lifetime Protection plan.

Ensuring you have enough insurance is important—but making changes to your insurance can feel like a hassle.

That's why the Guaranteed Future Insurability feature in your Firstcare – Lifetime Protection plan has made it easy to increase your insurance cover at some key times.

The Guaranteed Future Insurability feature allows you to increase cover once every 12 months by the lesser of:

- 25% of the current sum insured, or
- $250,000,

without providing any evidence of the insured person's health.

Please refer to the table on the following page for a list of eligible events and examples of the documentary evidence required.

What you need to tell us

When you apply for insurance

When you apply for insurance, the insurer conducts a process called underwriting. It's how we decide whether we can cover you, and if so on what terms and at what cost.

We will ask questions we need to know the answers to. These will be about your personal circumstances, such as your health and medical history, occupation, income, lifestyle, pastimes, and current and past insurance. The information you give us in response to our questions is vital to our decision.

The Duty to Take Reasonable Care Not to Make a Misrepresentation

! Read this if you are applying for insurance as the policy owner, if you will be an insured person under a policy owned by someone else, or if you will be an insured person under a superannuation plan.

Your legal duty

When you apply for insurance and up until your application is accepted by the insurer, there is a legal Duty to Take Reasonable Care Not to Make a Misrepresentation to the insurer.

A misrepresentation is a false answer, an answer that is only partially true, or an answer which does not fairly reflect the truth.

You have the same duty if anything changes, or you remember more information, while we're processing your application.

If you want to change your insurance cover at any time, extend it or reinstate it, you'll also have the same Duty to Take Reasonable Care Not to Make a Misrepresentation to the insurer at that time.

You are responsible for all answers given, even if someone assists you with your application.

We may later investigate the answers given in your application, including at the time of a claim.

Where a policy owned by one person covers the life of another person, it's important that the other person does not make a misrepresentation when providing information to the insurer. If the other person does make a misrepresentation, then it may be treated as a failure by the owner of the policy in their Duty to Take Reasonable Care Not to Make a Misrepresentation. Therefore, you must take reasonable care not to make a misrepresentation when giving us information whether you're the owner of the policy or an insured person under it.

If you do not meet your legal duty

If you do not meet your Duty to Take Reasonable Care Not to Make a Misrepresentation, this can have serious impacts on your insurance. Your cover could be avoided (treated as if it never existed), or its terms may be changed. This may also result in a claim being declined or a benefit being reduced.

Please note that there may be circumstances where we later investigate whether the information given to us was true. For example, we may do this when a claim is made.

If there is a failure to comply with the Duty to Take Reasonable Care Not to Make a Misrepresentation, there are different remedies that may be available to the insurer. These are set out in the Insurance Contracts Act 1984 (Cth). These are intended to put the insurer in the position it would have been in if the duty had been met. Therefore, if the person who answers our questions does not take reasonable care not to make a misrepresentation, it can have serious consequences for your insurance, such as those explained below:

- we may treat the contract (or your cover) as if it never existed.
- we may reduce the amount you've been insured for – to reflect the premium you've been paying. There is a link between the premium you pay and your level of cover. If you fail to tell us something, your premiums may have been too low. The insurer may reduce the amount you've been insured for, taking into account the premium you would have had to pay if you'd told us everything you should have. For Death cover the insurer can only reduce the amount you've been insured for within three years of your cover starting.
- we may vary your cover – to take into account the information you didn't tell us and put the insurer in the same position as it would've been if you'd told us. Variations could mean, for example, that waiting periods, exclusions or premiums may be different. The insurer can't make variations to Death cover.

Your total insurance cover forms one insurance contract. If you don't meet your legal duty, the insurer may treat your different types of cover as separate contracts when it takes action to address this.

Whether the insurer can exercise one of these remedies depends on a number of factors, including:

- whether the person who answered our questions took reasonable care not to make a misrepresentation. This depends on all of the relevant circumstances. This includes how clear and specific our questions were and how clear the information we provided on the duty was;
- what the insurer would have done if the duty had been met – for example, whether the insurer would have offered cover, and if so, on what terms;
- whether the misrepresentation was fraudulent; and
- in some cases, how long it has been since the cover started.

Before we exercise any of these remedies, we will let you know our reasons and the information we rely on and give you an opportunity to provide an explanation.

If we decide to exercise one of these remedies, we will advise you of our decision and the process to have this reviewed or make a complaint if you disagree with our decision.

Guidance for answering our questions

When answering our questions, please:

- Think carefully about each question before you answer. If you are unsure of the meaning of any question, please ask us before you respond.
- Answer every question that we ask you.
- Do not assume that we will contact your doctor for any medical information.
- Answer truthfully, accurately and completely. If you are unsure about whether you should include information, please include it or check with us.
- Review your application carefully. If someone else helped prepare your application (for example, your adviser), please check every answer (and make corrections if needed) before the application is submitted.

Changes before your cover starts

Before your cover starts, we may ask about any changes that mean you would now answer our questions differently. As any changes might require further assessment or investigation, it could save time if you let us know about any changes when they happen.

After your cover starts

If, after the cover starts, you think you may not have met your duty, please contact us immediately.

Guaranteed Future Insurability at a glance—your questions answered

What types of cover does the Guaranteed Future Insurability feature apply to?

You can use the Guaranteed Future Insurability feature to increase your Death, Total and Permanent Disablement (TPD) and Trauma cover.

How much can the benefit be increased by with each application?

The following limits apply to your applications to increase cover for the relevant insured under this application:

- You may apply to increase the ‘insured amount’ by up to 25% (to a maximum of $250,000) at any one time.
- If you apply for an increase under this feature for Death and/or TPD cover as a result of an increase to the insured person’s mortgage, the maximum increase will be limited to the increase in the insured person’s mortgage.
- If you apply for an increase under this feature for Death and/or TPD cover as a result of a promotion or commencement of a new employment arrangement, the maximum increase will be limited to 10 times the salary increase.

How much can the benefit be increased to over the life of my plan?

Death cover

The lesser of:

- the original Death cover insured amount under your plan, or
- $1,000,000.

TPD cover

The lesser of:

- the original TPD cover insured amount under your plan, or
- $250,000.

The maximum amount you can increase the TPD cover insured amount to under this feature is $2.5 million.

Trauma cover

The lesser of:

- the original Trauma cover benefit insured amount under your plan, or
- $250,000.

The maximum amount you can increase the Trauma cover insured amount to under this feature is $2 million.

Up to what age can I use this feature?

You can increase cover under the Guaranteed Future Insurability feature up to age 55.

Are there any other restrictions on using this feature?

You won’t be able to increase the amount insured with this feature if, at the time of your application, the relevant insured person:

- is aged 55 years or older, or
- has more than one (1) exclusion applied to their cover, or
- has a premium loading of more than 50% applied to their cover, or
- has both an exclusion and a premium loading, or
- has any other ‘special terms’ applied to their cover, or
- is having their premiums waived under the ‘Waiver of Premium’ option, or
- is eligible to make, or has made, a Terminal Illness, TPD or Trauma claim, under any plan issued by us if your plan is a Life Protection Plan acquired through superannuation, or
- is eligible to make, or has made, a Terminal Illness, TPD or Trauma claim, under any plan issued by us or any policy held with another company if your plan is a Life Protection Plan acquired outside Superannuation.

In addition, this feature will not be applied to the following (if applicable to your plan):

- Children’s Trauma cover option, or
- Death cover amount restored for the insured after the TPD Plus option has been exercised, or
- Death cover amount restored for the insured after the Optimum Buy Back option has been exercised, or
- Trauma cover amount restored for the insured after the Optimum Trauma Reinstatement option has been exercised.

How much will the additional insurance cost?

The cost of your insurance is based on your type and level of cover, age, sex, occupation and smoking status. For a quote on how much your new level of cover will be, talk to your financial adviser.

What do I need to do to apply for the increase?

- Complete the Firstcare – Lifetime Protection Guaranteed Future Insurability Application Form for Death, Total and Permanent Disablement (TPD) and Trauma cover

AND

- Attach appropriate evidence that one of the life events has occurred.

(i) If you are applying to increase your cover as a result of an increase to the insured person's mortgage, the maximum increase is also limited to the amount the mortgage is increased by.

(ii) If your plan commenced on or after 19 August 2012, this event is described as:

The insured person has been promoted or has commenced a new employment arrangement and, as a result, has had an annual income increase of at least $10,000 and 10%. This means if the insured person's salary is less than $100,000 pa, the increase must be at least $10,000; or if their salary is over $100,000 pa, the increase must be 10% or more. In this case, the maximum increase will also be limited to 10 times the salary increase.

(iii) This event is only applicable where the plan is owned by a business, and the plan was written for the purpose of key person protection.

(iv) This event is only applicable where the plan was written for loan protection.
